

Alpha & Omega

Issue #29, 5/5/93

Alpha & Omega is the official zine of the Miller Number Custodian. Published by: Lee A. Kendter, Jr., 376A Willowbrook Drive, Jeffersonville, PA 19403 (215) 539-3479.

Subs are $.75 (USA), $1.00 (Canada), $1.50 (overseas) per issue. Back issues are available. If interested, please let me know which issues, and I can give you a price to get the copies.

I am looking for large blocks of old zines that dealt with variants. If you have a large block to contribute I would appreciate it. I will pay postage up to $2.90 without question. If the blocks requires more and you want postage and other costs, please write me with the list of zines and what you want for them.

If anyone wishes to submit articles on variants, I will include them in future issues of A&O.

Welcome Aboard

This issue is being sent to all zines listed in Pontevedria that have variant openings. To insure that I keep track of as many games as possible, I need to see as many zines as possible. I hope you will be interested in a trade.

French Translator Wanted

I have a decent number of variants in the bank that have rules in French. In addition there is a large block available, if I ask for them. If someone is interested in translating them, please let me know. I would like to have the games available in English.

Abandoned Games

If you know of any games not played for at least a year, please let me know.

1991HFrc04 (Deviant Diplomacy), Restart attempt failed.

1992HYrd22 (Fog of War), terminated by GM.

End Games Incomplete

I am waiting for more information on the following: 1987Qgh09, 1988HArb32-HGrb32.

NAVB News

A listing with a question mark (?) immediately following the NAVB Catalog Number indicates that the copy is of questionable value as parts are very difficult to read.

The Sundered Worlds

An Abstract type Diplomacy variant for four players and unlimited amounts of paper by Steve Doubleday.

1. Except as mentioned herein, the 1972 Diplomacy rulebook will apply.

2. The playing area at the start of the game consists of five (5) spaces. Four of these connect with a central fifth space.

3. There shall be another movement phase which precedes the ordinary movement phase. The first movement phase enables units to exert their power for that move in one of a number of possible ways:

a) the creation of a new movement interface (eg connection of 'space A' to 'space B').

b) the creation of a new space (eg Unit in A creates space E). The new space is not connected to any other space as yet.

c) the destruction of an existing movement interface (eg 'space A' is disconnected from 'space B').

d) the destruction of an existing space. This space must be connected to the space occupied by the unit so ordering, and may not be a supply center.

e) the creation of a supply center from a non-supply center. The unit so ordering must be occupying the space.

f) the degradation of a space from supply center to non-supply center. The unit so ordering must be occupying the space.

4. A unit may only perform ONE of the above functions in a turn. Having done so, it may not Support or Move in the following normal movement phase; it may however be supported in Holding its position.

5. Retreats are carried out as normal, but because of the nature of the game, units are not extinct should they fail to specify a retreat area. The Gamesmaster shall decide where an unordered retreat should be made by some chance method (or Will Haven!).

6. Builds may only be carried out on a supply center which has been owned for a complete year. All years are, as usual, two moves in length.

7. A player loses when his home supply center no longer exists. The winner is thus the last player left with a home supply center. Each player starts with one unit on his home supply center, which are the four spaces in rule 2. There are no 'fleets' or 'armies', simply units.

8. It will be realized that this game can be played by any number by simply giving each a supply center space linked to the single central space.

Democratic Diplomacy

By Tim Sharrock

1. All normal rules of diplomacy will be followed except as outlined below.

2. 5 Players will each submit one set of orders for one particular country. This means that there are 35 players in the game.

3. The majority order for each unit will be the one used by the GM. If there is no majority for one particular order then the unit concerned will not move during that season.

4. 35 separate sets of orders must be received by the GM. i.e. Order may not be collected by one person for a country who then send them on to the GM.

5. Only the resulting order of each unit will be printed.

6. If a player does not wish to submit orders for a unit or units in one season then he must state that he is abstaining or a standby player will be used next move. If no standby system is in operation then a country is not regarded as being in anarchy until the last of the five players has ceased to submit orders.

7. Unless indicated otherwise by the GM, separate orders will be required from the players concerned for retreats and builds.

If there is no majority for a particular build order, then no unit will be built.

If there is no majority for a particular retreat order, then the unit is eliminated.

8. Any orders arriving after the deadline will be ignored. Orders which have arrived before the deadline will not be affected.
